Delegate Anitra Hamilton, past president of the Morgantown - Kingwood Branch of the NAACP, will talk from the topic "Your Vote, Our Future," which was the Branch's voting initiative in 2024. She will focus on the importance of voting, how every vote impacts our communities and our state and how we must start preparing now.

In addition, Barb Howe will present "The Road to the Vote" chronicling voting rights from 1776 to 1990 and the Americans with Disabilities Act. Executive committee member of Fair Districts PA (FDPA), Tony Crocamo, will present "Lobby Legislators on Any Issue: A Non-confrontational, Team-approach to Citizen Advocacy." Morgantown musicians Chris Haddox and the Osage Soul & Gospel Choir featuring Al Anderson and Aristotle Jones will provide the music.

FAIRNESS WEST VIRGINIA:

“Do you care about what happens in West Virginia, but feel confused, frustrated, or unsure how to make a difference? You’re not alone. And you don’t have to navigate any of this by yourself.

“Join Fairness West Virginia for a clear, practical, and empowering workshop that will give you the tools to understand how the Legislature works, where LGBTQ+ rights stand today, and how to talk to lawmakers in ways that actually move people. Whether you’re brand-new to advocacy or you’ve been following these issues for years, this session will break everything down in plain, accessible language.

“In one training, you’ll learn:

- How bills really move (or stall) in Charleston
- The major LGBTQ+ policy issues shaping West Virginia right now
- What motivates lawmakers and how to communicate through shared values
- How to tell your story in a way that opens hearts instead of raising defenses
- How to follow legislation in real time and make your voice heard
- Practical, real-world steps you can take to protect your community this session

“If you’ve ever thought, “I want to help, but I don’t know where to start,” this workshop is for you.

“Come learn how to understand the process, talk about LGBTQ+ issues with clarity and compassion, and advocate in ways that actually make an impact. You’ll leave with the knowledge, confidence, and skills to stand up for your neighbors — and to make sure fairness, dignity, and freedom truly belong to everyone in West Virginia.

“We’re offering this training on three different days and at different times so you can choose the session that fits your schedule. Each session covers the same content, so just pick the one that works best for you. Click below to register for your preferred date and time, and we’ll send you all the details you need to join us on Zoom.

"On January 13, our client Becky will have her case heard at the U.S. Supreme Court. Outside the court, we'll be rallying for trans kids like Becky who just want to be part of a team and belong. "Seats are filling up fast. Secure yours now at the link. You'll receive pickup details after signing up: <https://act.aclu.org/a/bpj-hecox-rally>."

"In 2026, the U.S. Supreme Court will hear two cases that will shape the future of transgender and nonbinary (TNB) people in this country: West Virginia v. BPJ and Little v. Hecox.

"On January 13, 2026, the ACLU, Lambda Legal, GSA Network, and the Transgender Law Center along with national and local partners are joining together to say clearly: Together We Win: Fight for the T in Team. And we need you with us.

"These cases ask whether states can categorically bar transgender girls and women from participating on girls' and women's sports teams, a direct challenge to the Equal Protection Clause and Title IX. A broad ruling could go even further, opening the door to widespread discrimination against transgender people in every part of public life.

"In a moment where President Donald Trump is abusing his power to target our communities, suppress dissent, and create a climate of fear, we know politicians are using these cases to legitimize discrimination and push TNB people out of public life altogether. We refuse to let that happen.
